

I strongly oppose allowing the use of cellular phones in flight. As a frequent traveler I use the time in flight to do "quiet work" and sleep. With seats being so close together it is foreseeable to have loud conversations going on from all directions. Please keep the regulations as they currently are - phones may be used until take-off, and after landing.